

I think it is important to be able to personalize my bike type, route preference and ascent

The routes calculated by the app have adapted to my personalization in a meaningful way

